

The Activity:

I had talked from professionals of computer science

I have done this before but still it feels sort of new and exciting everytime

I feel good after doing it , when you talk to someone who have shared interest as you have the person automatically become interesting to you and vice versa .

I think everybody would like to do it regularly or atleast I would like to . But i doubt i will bring more waste of time than benifits , as guidance is good on weekly bases or preferably on monthly basis . Rather should work on what we talk

This Activity motivate me to push even harder to be an expert of my field and be consistent on what I am doing.
